LACE CURTAINS A SPECIALTY

JOHN EYRAUD, Proprietor.

Girls who have to stand on their feet most of the time work as hard as any day-laborer yet they do not get what is rightly called exercise. Close, confining, indoor occupation gives no exhilaration to the nervous system, nor active circulation to the blood. It wears, tears and drags a woman's life away. The whole physical system grows sluggish and torpid under it.

No wonder so many sales girls and factory girls and housewives suffer from indigestion and constipation and bilious troubles. No wonder they are subject to the diseases of the delicate special organism of their sex. The wonder is rather that they can stand it as well as they do. But "a poor weak woman," as she is termed, will endure bravely and patiently agonies which a strong man would give way under. The fact is women are more patient than they ought to be under such troubles.

Every woman ought to know that she may obtain the most eminent medical advice free of charge and in absolute confidence and privacy by writing to Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y. Occupying this position for thirty years he has had a wider practical experience in the treatment of women's diseases than any other physician in this country. His medicines are world famous for their astonishing efficacy.

The most perfect remedy ever devised for weak and delicate women is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. His "Golden Medical Discovery" is the only "permanent digestive and nutrient tonic." The two medicines taken alternately, form the most perfect and successful course of treatment ever prescribed for female troubles complicated with a sluggish, overwrought, nervous, diseased constitution. In severe constipation Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets should be occasionally taken with the others. They never gripe.

A Letter of Advice.

A son of Erin appeared at the money order window of a postoffice and said that he wanted to "sind some money to ould Orlend."

"Fill out this blank," said the clerk, handing the applicant one of the blanks used on such occasions.

"An phwat is that?" asked Jerry.

"It's a blank that every applicant for a money order must fill out, a kind of letter of advice regarding the money order."

"An phwat has a letter of advice got to do wid me sindin tin dollars to me ould mother?"

"A letter of advice to the postmaster where the money is to be paid must always go with a money order."

Jerry went away from the window, grumbling and mystified.

After half an hour of painful effort at a high desk provided for the public at one end of the room Jerry returned to the window and handed in this "letter of advice" to the postmaster at Ballycarney:

"Dear Molke—O'm tould O! must give yez a bit av advice before yu'll be able to pay me ould mother the two pounds O'm sindin along with this. So, Molke, O! would advise yez to come to Ameriky an get a job at kaping post-office, for it's illigant postoffices they has here, an O've no doubt the pay is tin toimes phwat it is wid yez. So now be sure an pay me ould mother the two pounds, for O've done as the law says and sint yez a letter of advice."

—Youth's Companion.

Her Last Heart Beat.

Dr. J. B. Thomas during his connection with the Brooklyn City hospital had an experience which was unprecedented in medical history. There was in his ward a woman who had a very defective heart. Dr. Thomas found her much improved one morning and stopped at her bedside to congratulate her upon her condition. The woman said that her condition was so much better that she thought she could get up and leave the institution. Having his stethoscope with him, the doctor bent over the patient to hear the pulsations of the heart. They were exceedingly irregular, and for some seconds he counted them.

Suddenly there was a pause, and he waited for the recurring beat. Maybe three seconds elapsed, and still there was no sound.

He looked up at her face in time to see the expression of death settling over the features. The pupils of the eyes dilated and swelled as he watched them, and the skin assumed a peculiar mottled appearance.

She whispered: "My God! What does this mean?" For a second the automatic action of the respiratory organs continued, and there were convulsive twitchings of the facial muscles, but death came when the last beat of the heart had died away.—Detroit Journal.

Lincoln Quit.

A gentleman who knew Lincoln well told the following story about "Old Abe."

"About two years before Mr. Lincoln ran against Mr. Douglas for the United States senatorship I was a witness in Judge David Davis' court in the McLean county circuit. During the progress of the case Mr. Lincoln, who had come up from Springfield the night before, entered the courtroom and stood before the big stove in one corner of the room to warm himself. Several lawyers and acquaintances at once gathered around Mr. Lincoln, and he began telling stories in a low voice.

"Judge Davis finally arose, stretched himself and in a drawing voice said: 'See here, now, Lincoln, either you will have to quit telling stories, or I will have to adjourn court.'

"All right, judge," replied Mr. Lincoln. 'I've got business down the street, so I'll go.'

"Mr. Lincoln was the most magnetic, entertaining man I ever knew. People have said he was homesy, but when he was speaking I've seen his face light up with such a brilliant expression that he looked positively handsome."

Our Returning Heroes.

THIS is Nevada's gala day. This is a day that will be historic. It will always be referred to as an evidence that the Battle Born State is most loyal to the flag and most grateful to its sons who defend its honor. To-day we welcome the little band that followed the banner across the sea and marched beneath its folds where duty called, always with their faces toward the foe.

A little band—a mere handful—too small to storm a citadel or engage in single-handed contest with the enemy. The part it took in battles has been barely chronicled. Troop A, Nevada Cavalry, lost its identity when it became a part, a fraction of a regiment of twelve hundred men. The fighting fourth has been credited with deeds of gallantry and valor, but the correspondents rarely singled out our little troop for individual mention.

Yet the metal of our boys was recognized by those in authority and when a difficult and dangerous bit of scouting duty was to be performed Troop H was almost invariably singled out for the honor and the peril. We have reason to be proud of our boys and we intend to tell them so to-day.

Dressed in Our Best.

ALL Reno is in ga's dress to-day. Never have the national colors been more lavishly displayed in our city. A glance along any of the thoroughfares reveals a wealth of bunting floating in the breeze. Dull, dingy brick and gaudy paint are alike hidden by the work of patriotic hands.

Among the fluttering flags are sprigs of the artemesia, evidencing that we have a state as well as a national pride. The boys we welcome fought for the honor of Nevada as well as for their Uncle Sam.

At two places in particular was the sage made the piece de resistance in the decorations. The Virginia street bridge and the Parry building were both lavishly adorned with this indigenous product of our soil. Messrs. Loofbourrow & Leadbetter of the Decoration Committee deserve chief credit for the former, and Martin Evans superintended the latter.

Adornments are not confined to inanimate structures. One of the most noticeable features was the spirit with which the four-legged people entered into the spirit of the occasion. Several dignified canines march up and down the street in garments of red, white and blue, while horses of all social degrees are neither too proud nor too humble to carry the flag of their country in their harness trappings.

DEMOCRATS AND SILVER MEN.

There should be an abiding faith in the people politically. They may be for a time over influenced by party considerations. Men do not change because of caprice about matters that belong to principle.

Fickleness is not a characteristic of the American people because they are of a race whose determined character has long been established as a fact that has entered and been recorded over much in history.

While they are possessed of a character that represents in its make up the will power expressed in "Convince a man against his will and he is of the same opinion still," yet their strong common sense leads to reflection that brings them to the right when the matter under consideration has been mentally reviewed, as the cause operating upon them is an underlying desire to be right and to know they are not imposing upon themselves when they change from one position to another.

There is much in their character represented in the phrase "give and take," which represents one of the most humane principles in the race.

We believe the political future in Nevada may call into action the stubborn and conciliatory principles above outlined, in an effort to unite the Democratic and Silver parties in the State. Democrats politically represent the determined principle in our nature more fully than is represented by any other class of men on the earth, because they more fully represent politically the principle "convince a man against his will," etc., than it is represented by them in any other relation in life. A Democrat is so sure that he is right in politics that any seeming surrender by him of his political convictions, the correctness of which in his mind, is settled as a truth upon which he relies as fully as he does in the truth of the Bible, is political suicide. It is our observation that Silver men in Nevada are possessed of a like feeling as the Democrats in their political make-up, and do not wish to be convinced against their will. When we have noted the leading features in our nature that will if not controlled by our better judgment cause opposition to union of action, as there is no question upon our union of purpose we believe it should be a duty that each member of both parties should feel there is upon him to get away for a time at least from that controlling will power there is in us and act as we should act under the circumstances present upon the give and take principle there is in us. Should we act on that principle the end desired by each of us will have assurance on our part of its final success and that is the free coinage of silver at the ratio of sixteen to one.

The mere fact of party alignment should not have any influence upon men who are earnestly seeking the same end, and we feel persuaded that the patriotism that should control our action in these times will lead to a harmonious union of the parties on principles.

A Duty to Be Performed.

The music and feasting is all well—very well, but there is a duty to be performed by our people which will be more greatly appreciated than even the big reception we expect to give them today.

Some of the boys lay down the musket and have nothing to pick up in its place. We who remained at home and pursued our vocations while these boys fought our battles owe it to them to see that no member of the Nevada Cavalry should be compelled to "pack blankets."

The JOURNAL suggests that any one having employment to offer the boys communicate with Grace V. Ward, secretary of the Reno Red Cross society.

May be Late.

Train No. 6, on which the boys are returning, was reported last night to be very heavy. It is probable that it will be divided into two sections for the mountain haul, in which case it may not arrive on time. It was reported on schedule time at Roseville junction.

Comstock Kickers.

Yesterday's Territorial Enterprise says there is considerable kicking in Virginia by the militiamen. They want the reception committee to pay their fares to Reno. There is no money available for that purpose.

SOME ITEMS OF GENERAL NEWS

Happenings All Over the World
Received Over "the Grape-vine" Line.

Fifty persons were killed in a battle between Kurds and Armenians.

It is reported that a British armored train in the Transvaal has met with disaster and that one hundred men are missing.

Japan and Russia are said to have reached an understanding and war is no longer considered among the probabilities.

A brilliant display of meteors caused panics in many parts of Russia.

Order of the Day.

The first thing on the program this morning will be to meet the boys at the train at 8 o'clock and give them the Nevada war whoop.

The troopers will proceed to the Riverside where they will be breakfasted.

At 12:45 will be the football match which will be witnessed by the volunteers and everybody generally.

The parade will take place after the game.

When the parade disbands the soldiers will be presented with medals.

The banquet will be spread at 6:30. At 9 o'clock the reception will begin. A little later dancing will commence and last until midnight.

The Men We Welcome.

On the first and fourth pages of this issue are the rolls of Troop "A." The one gives the names of those that sailed away for the Philippines and the other those who returned. One of the former is sleeping his last sleep and two are in the hands of the enemy—whether dead or living, God knows. They will answer to the roll call at the last day.

Can't Freeze It.

The Reno reduction works have been in operation just a week, and everything is running smoothly. The ballion is piling up at an alarming rate. To show the excellence of the new smelter, the other day a belt flew to pieces and the draught was off for three hours, but the charge showed no signs of freezing.

Cavalry Horses.

L. J. Hancock, who is purchasing horses in this vicinity for the United States army, left last night for San Francisco. He has recently bought seventeen head for the cavalry, obtaining them on the Truckee meadows and at the Sink of the Carson. He has sent buyers to Mason, Sierra and Long valleys.

Attention, Odd Fellows and Rebekahs.

All Odd Fellows, their wives and all Rebekahs are cordially invited to attend a reception in honor of our Odd Fellow volunteers, at new Investment building hall, Monday, Nov. 20th, at 8 o'clock P. M. Above named persons only will be admitted.

Appropriate Decoration.

The window of Folsom & Cahlan's store is decorated in a very military manner. It contains a shelter tent and full equipment of the soldier in camp. Elmer Seaton is the artist.

Across the Continent.

A lady and gentlemen arrived in Reno a week yesterday afternoon from the east. Their cyclometers registered 3,812 miles. They are wheeling from New York to San Francisco.

Cleaning Up.

R. W. Farry had a force of men employed yesterday removing the debris from the scene of the recent fire and preparing the ground for the new building.

Forty-six Troopers.

A telegram was received from Roseville Junction last night sent by Captain Linscott. He reports three officers and forty-three men aboard No. 6.

Free Grats for Nothing.

Superintendent Fitzgerald has tendered to the ladies of the Red Cross, on the part of the State, the use of the pavilion for the reception.

Still Sinking.

At a late hour last night Miss Layton's condition was reported unchanged. Unless she rallies to-day there will be no hope.

LOCAL SHORTSTOPS.

Coach Dickson of the Nevada University football team has been selected as umpire for the great Thanksgiving game in San Francisco between the Stanford and University of California teams.

The town has been filling up with Indians the past day or two. The noble red men want to be on hand for the reception.

Make your plans to attend the Thanksgiving evening ball given by the members of Monumental Hose Company No. 6.

The Orr Ditch Company has levied an assessment of $8 a share on its stock.

Forty tons of ore are being smelted daily at the Reno reduction works.

During the absence of C. L. Knox at Washington his legal business will be transacted by Benj. Currier.

The usual Friday evening reception at the Nevada club was omitted last evening on account of the preparations being made to receive the soldiers.

Admission to the reception will not be had until 9:30, when the banquet will be over.

Captain Stoddard estimates that thirty-five members of his company and one hundred members of the entire Nevada battalion will be in the parade.

All exhibits for the Paris world's fair should be in by the first of December.

The Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will tender a reception to the members of Nevada troop who belong to the I. O. O. F., in Investment building Monday evening.

Professional Amenities.

M. J. Jones received a preliminary examination yesterday morning before Commissioner Waldo. He was bound over in the sum of $300 bail to answer to the United States grand jury the charge of selling whiskey to an Indian.

During the progress of the examination one of the attorneys made a remark that riled the counsel on the other side. A parliamentary debate ensued which Clerk Lamb tried to report, until it got so hot that his notebook began to scorch.

The Football Game.

Game will be called at 12:45 to-day. There will undoubtedly be a large attendance, for the parade will not start until the gladiatorial contest is over. All the Nevada volunteers are expected to be present. They will receive free tickets.

The second eleven will put a magnificent game, if their work at practice be a good criterion to judge by. As for the Indians, they play the game according to Hoyle.

Bade Him Farewell.

Last evening the members of the Reno Dramatic Club sat down to a banquet at the home of Professor and Mrs. N. E. Wilson. It was given in honor of Charles L. Knox, who leaves Monday for the national capital, where he will spend the winter in the capacity of private secretary of Congressman Newlands.

A number of toasts were proposed and responded to. The club will miss Mr. Knox greatly, especially as they expect to put on a number of plays this winter.

Last fall I strained my left hip while handling some heavy boxes. The doctor I called on said at first it was a slight strain and would soon be well, but it grew worse and the doctor then said I had rheumatism. It continued to grow worse and I could hardly get around to work. I went to a drug store and the druggist recommended me to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. I tried it and one-half of a 50 cent bottle cured me entirely. I now recommend it to all my friends.—F. A. BARCOCK, Erie, Pa. It is for sale by W. Pinniger.

Story of a Slave.

To be bound hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst form of slavery. George D. Williams, of Manchester, Mich., tells how such a slave was made free. This supreme remedy for female diseases quickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. This miracle working medicine is a godsend to weak, sickly, run down people. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c. Sold by S. J. Hodgkinson Druggist.

A LIVELY KICKER

FROM LOVELOCK

A Correspondent Has Something to Say About This Dyspeptic "Old Rag."

(Evidently the JOURNAL has gained a reputation throughout the State as a dyspeptic old growler. Ever since we registered our first kick against the plan to charge admission to the soldiers' reception there have been words of support coming in. Here is the communication of a Lovelock reader who falls into rhyme. We publish it even though the writer labors under a misapprehension as to the amount that was planned to be charge and has not been yet informed that our kick was successful in having the reception made free to all.)

THE JOURNAL'S KICK.

"Journal's got a kick a coming?"
Well, I guess that that's all right.
Journal always was a kicker
When our interest was in sight.
Source is one kick well delivered
Ere another looms in view
And ere that has been well mastered
One and one have turned to two.
What the kick that now is written?
"Why your work will never do."
A big dollar for reception
Just to greet our boys in blue,
Just to shake the hands of comrades,
Welcome home our laddies true."
No! No! Take our word, committee,
Such coarse work will never do.

Give your banquet to the many
Who can sport "donaries" true;
We are used to bread and water—
Though our spirit's just as true—
Were we giving this reception
Wide the halls we'd throw to you.
Take a lesson from the Journal,
That's the sort of thing to do.

Many stand at every corner
Registering a kick for you—
But the Journal is the only
One, it seems, who dares to do—
Yes, we have a kick a coming
And a big one, it is true.
Now committee, pull together;
Let us see how swell you'll do.

I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, in silks and madras cloths.

I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is rivited, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair, and be convinced.

ALFRED NELSON.

Poor Hitching Post.

Henry Ritter, the mining man and purveyor of wet goods, had an experience the other day which aged him ten years. He visited the reduction works and tied his horse to a box car on the side track.

While he was in the office discussing matters with Mr. Williams there was a commotion outside. An engine had run in on the spur and was shifting cars about. The improvised hitching post was going down the road at a pretty good gait, horse and wagon following it perforce.

No damage except a scare all round.

A Narrow Escape.

James Welshon, miller at the Riverside flouring mill, narrowly escaped death in a terrible form yesterday morning.

His coat became entangled in some belting and he was lifted from the floor and carried up to a belt wheel, where his arm was horribly mangled. It is dislocated in two places and the bones protrude through the flesh.
Mr. Welshon has been engaged around machinery for thirty-five years, and this is his first accident.

Volcanic Eruptions

Are grand, but Skin Eruptions rob life of joy. A Wadsworth Event.

Would Not Suffer so Again for Fifty Times Its Price.

I awoke last night with severe pains in my stomach. I never felt so badly in all my life. When I came down to work this morning I felt so weak I could hardly work. I went to Miller & McCarray's drug store and they recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It worked like magic and one dose fixed me all right. It certainly is the finest thing I ever used for stomach trouble. I shall not be without it in my home hereafter, for I should not care to endure the sufferings of last night again for fifty times its price.—G. H. WILSON, Liverman, Burgettstown, Washington Co., Pa. This remedy is for sale by W. Pinniger.

Prevented a Tragedy.

Timely information given Mrs. George Long of New Straitsville, Ohio, prevented a dreadful tragedy and saved two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery. One bottle wholly cured her, and she writes this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of pneumonia. Such cures are positive proof of the matchless merit of this grand remedy for curing all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50c and $1.00 Every bottle guaranteed. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's drug store.

A Brilliant Idea.

A subscriber requests the JOURNAL to canvass the sentiment of our readers as to their best loved authors. The correspondent believes that by this means the pulse of our literary taste could be felt. He submits the following writers as his choice:

Shakespeare, Kipling, Dickens, Tennyson, Byron, Hope, Stockton, Emerson, Tolstol and Macaulay.

If any popular interest should attach to an experience meeting of this sort, the JOURNAL would be pleased to act as mouthpiece for it. Send in your lists.

Bismarck's Iron Nerve.

Loss Adjusted.

A. G. Ridling, adjuster for the home Insurance Company, was in Reno yesterday, adjusting the loss on the barn of R. W. Parry which was destroyed by fire last Sunday. As it was insured for only $700 and the loss easily reached $2,500, Mr. Parry will receive the full amount of the insurance.

Breach of Promise.

"A Breach of Promise" will be the bill at McKissick's Opera House, Nov. 25th. The piece, one of this season's most successful productions, is bright and musical, and besides furnishing clean and sparkling comedy, numerous up-to-date specialties are introduced.
